

WVS WORK FOR OLD PEOPLE AND THE ORIGINS OF DARBY & JOAN CLUBS

ROYAL VOLUNTARY SERVICE HERITAGE COLLECTION

“W.V.S. members gave every care in their power to the welfare of old people during the war years and many of them made it a regular duty to look after those who were alone during air attack, either taking them to the shelter or staying with them in their own homes. In addition to this form of neighbourly aid, warm blankets and comforting hot water bottles were provided ... for many who were ailing or infirm, shopping was undertaken ... and any who were confused or worried by the intricacies of pension books, form filling and rationing were assured of ready and kindly help and advice at the nearest W.V.S. Centre.”¹

“Released by the end of the war from the constant over-riding importance of its Civil Defence duties W.V.S. gladly turned its attention to the means of increasing its work for the welfare of old people, a cause which it had much at heart.”²

In 1946 WVS enacted two major initiatives to improve welfare for old people.

The first was the creation of residential clubs, which aimed to house the growing number of old people, who had nowhere else to go after the end of the war, which were funded by the Lord Mayor of London's Air-Raid Distress Fund.³

The second were Darby & Joan clubs where people could meet in pleasant surroundings for a friendly chat and a cup of tea and perhaps a quiet game of cards or half an hour with the wireless. In some cases, too, a hot midday meal cooked by W.V.S. members was available.⁴

The name Darby & Joan come from a poem by Henry Woodfall in 1735, which describes the lives of happily married couple.⁵

The first of these clubs to open, for which we have a firm date recorded in the Royal Voluntary Service Archive and Heritage Collection, was at Lincoln which opened on 26 July 1946.

The following is extracted from the Lincoln centre organiser Beatrice Slater's narrative report for June/July 1946.⁶

“The only extra activity has been the starting of our “DARBY & JOAN” Club, which took place on the 26th July. Our rooms are not large enough to hold more than about 20 visitors, so for this occasion we hired a room. 45 old age pensioners attended. After tea they gave a wonderful impromptu concert. The Mayoress (in the absence of the Mayor) spent the afternoon with us.

My aim is to have the club open on alternate Monday afternoons from 3 till 6 p.m. there will be books, games, music & tea. Bus fares will be paid and each visitor will be given a small gift of food stuff.

I hope to enlarge this idea when it is found out the needs of these old people.”⁷

WVS was administered in 12 Regions which mirrored those of the National Civil Defence organisation. Below is a list of the first recorded mention of Darby & Joan clubs or their equivalent in each region.

Region	Club
Region 1	(North east) Whitley Bay, 29 November 1946. ⁸
Region 2	(Yorkshire) Sheffield, Attercliffe Wesley Hall and Firth Park Mission Hall, September 1946. ⁹
Region 3	(East Midlands) Lincoln, 26 July 1946. Chesterfield also started a scheme at approximately the same time ¹⁰ but no record of an exact start date could be found.
Region 4	(East Anglia) Kings Lynn, probably in late July or August 1946, but through the National Council of Women. ¹¹
Region 5	(London) Not researched
Region 6	(South) By September 1946 “Darby & Joan Clubs are extremely popular.” ¹²
